We have homeroom daily for 25 minutes. It is divided into class rank. Announcements are to be read in this period and depending on teacher and class rank will depend on the structure of the classroom.

No homerooms at Stevenson. We do have 5 minutes of morning announcements to start the day.

Unfortunately, we have no homeroom of any kind. We only extend our second period by 5 minutes in order to read school-wide announcements on the PA. Looking for more innovative solution, and will look forward to seeing these replies!

We do not currently have homeroom. In the past homeroom was a 10 minute period everyday between 1st and 2nd hour. Students were assigned alphabetically to a teacher and stays with that teacher all four years.

While we do not have a time titled homeroom, we do have an 11 minute "411" period every other week. It is an extension to our 2nd period classes. Typically a student group and I plan the 411 periods which is facilitated by the teachers. Many times video commercials of things going on at school are shown, but we also take the time to discuss serious topics such as drinking and driving and bullying.

Geneva Community High School conducts homeroom once a week on Thursday mornings after 2nd period. The students stay in their 2nd hour classroom and homeroom lasts 15 minutes. Every homeroom our television studio presents the announcements and once or twice a month they produce a special program just for homeroom. Activities during homeroom include materials from the Counseling & Advising Office, surveys, and voting for any type of school activity (student council, homecoming royalty and prom themes).

Homerooms are daily for 25 minute periods. One 50-minute class period is split (25 minute HR, 25 minute lunch).

Sometimes HR is like a study hall. Other times we use it for student meetings, level meetings, informational presentations, etc...

We do not currently have Homerooms at Oak Forest High School nor in District 228.

Homeroom is daily, 10 minutes long, in between 3rd & 4th periods. Announcements are made over the PA or done via t.v., also used as main communication time with students via the homeroom teacher (notes from other teachers, etc,..)

>We have a homeroom period monthly, usually the first Wednesday of each month. It is a 15 minute period, taking 2 minutes away from each period on that day. We have this homeroom period for school business, especially for Student Council reporting. (Our Student Council meets the day before homeroom day and the homeroom reps report back to their homerooms all of the Student Council news.) This is when our entire school is informed as to what is happening with Student Council.

We have Advisory every other Thursday for 20 minutes...This is our first year of Advisory rather than Homerooms...Our "vision" is to personalize education for all students...Our "mission" is to foster a climate that encourages learning and personal growth within a small learning community...Our "values" are based on the 6 pillars of Character Counts...It's also a great opportunity to do things related to Student Activities (i.e. voting for class officers, homecoming court, etc...)
